Many organizations that care deeply about their employees fall short of offering what’s needed for child and family health.

The SACRED SECTOR refers to the wide range of faith-based organizations that conduct community activities or provide goods and services, and are places of work for employees, contract workers, and volunteers.

"Our work is about helping people reconnect with healthy relationships with God and each other. Families are a big piece of healthy relationships. We have to support that in our staff if we’re going to invite others into that kind of transformational living."
